

Transfer Program Map Interdisciplinary Studies – American Studies

Degree: Associate of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies (AA)

LIBERAL ARTS

Program Description: Austin Community College’s Interdisciplinary Studies (INDS) Program recognizes that culture, history, politics, civil society, and religion, as well as science and technology are interwoven and interconnected. This degree helps students develop critical and creative thinking skills that will prepare them to succeed in a complex, interconnected world and in a variety of professions.

The American Studies focus allows students to examine the historical, political, legal, economic, and cultural life of the United States.

Transfer Information

The Associate of Arts in Interdisciplinary Studies programs provide a transfer pathway to a 4-year college or university where students can earn a bachelor's degree. The Interdisciplinary Studies degree plans cover the core curriculum; students can use this as the foundation for an array of 4-year degrees suited to their interests. Students are strongly encouraged to select a transfer destination by the time they have completed 24 semester credit hours.

Transfer Guides: The universities listed here do not constitute an ACC endorsement. Transfer course evaluations and determination of what courses will count toward a bachelor's degree are made by the receiving transfer institution.

Students are encouraged to consult with a faculty advisor, area of study advisor, and/or their chosen transfer institution to ensure courses taken at ACC will apply toward their bachelor's degree program.

Career Information

Because Interdisciplinary Studies degree programs guide students toward a broad range of courses, your career options are nearly limitless. You can either pursue a bachelor's degree in one of the areas of specialty, or you can pursue degrees in another discipline. In any case, you will be able to view the world as a well-informed global citizen. In our increasingly complex world, employers are seeking people who are not only educated and skilled, but also have the ability to learn new information, think critically, and know what questions to ask. The broad curriculum of INDS encourages you to get deeply engaged in issues of importance to humanity, and equips you to address them creatively by drawing from a variety of disciplines.
